FAMILY OWNED & OPERATED
24 Years in Business

EntryPoint Doors and Windows of Atlanta was founded in 2003 by Paul and Betty Butler in Buford, Georgia. What began as a small family business quickly grew from specializing in front door transformations into a full-service provider of doors and windows.

As the company expanded, so did our product offerings. Today, EntryPoint provides custom iron doors, custom glass options, complete window replacements, and exterior door replacements.

Our strong, direct relationships with trusted suppliers allow us to offer an extensive selection of high-quality, custom products while providing quick turanaround times and competitive pricing.

As EntryPoint continued to grow, Paul's son Brett, and daughter-in-law Christy joined the family business. Today, the company has grown to more than 45 employees, but we have never lost our focus of doing what is right for the customer.
